MEMORANDUM TO ALL CONCERNED:

Subject: Classification of Material contained in Joint Army and Navy Intelligence Studies.

1. Joint Army and Navy Intelligence Studies (JANIS) will normally be classified "Confidential."

2. The Chief of the branch preparing a section of JANIS is responsible for determining the classification (Restricted, Confidential or Secret) if any, of the illustrations, charts, figures, and maps, included in the JANIS.

3. The classification of the text and appendix volumes will be marked on the cover and each page.

4. The classification, if any, of all charts, figures, and maps will be marked on the original copies before they are forwarded for reproduction. Overlays which contain classified information will be so marked.

5. No illustration, figure, chart or map will be given a higher classification than it merits regardless of the classification of the volume in which it is contained. Unmarked illustrations, figures, charts, and maps in a JANIS will be considered "unclassified."

6. Over-classification must be avoided. All material included in JANIS will be assigned the least restricted classification consistent with the proper safeguarding of the information concerned.

7. Communications concerning the procurement or reproduction of material will carry the same classification as the material concerned.
